ACC and Disclosures
ACC is committed to ensuring balance, independence, objectivity, and scientific rigor in their governance, programmatic, educational, chapter, and other activities. Fulfilling this commitment requires a comprehensive process, including disclosure of financial relationships and other relevant information. The information provided is intended to be used as a tool for medical professionals and the general public to help understand the context in which disclosures are made and how they may impact the professional's decisions or actions. It is not intended to be used as a basis for diagnosis, treatment, or other medical advice. The information is subject to change and may be updated as new information becomes available.

commitment depends on member and public confidence in the College’s integrity and objectivity. The College recognizes that the activities of College members in their practice, research, and other volunteer and private endeavors could lead to the development of conflicts of interest. Therefore, the College has established a Disclosure Policy and conflict of interest management process as appropriate. All members involved in College governance, including all committees and task forces, programmatic, certified educational, chapter, and other activities must provide complete, timely, accurate, and signed disclosure statements. Compliance with this process is mandatory for participation in College activities.
