ACC and Disclosures

ACC is committed to ensuring balance, independence, objectivity, and scientific rigor in their governance, programmatic, educational, chapter, and other activities. Fulfilling this commitment requires that ACC disclose all financial relationships, whether personal or organizational, that may be relevant to their work. All disclosures are collected and reviewed as part of the ACC's on-going education oversight processes. ACC has developed Disclosure Guidelines that provide a framework for the disclosure of relationships, financial thresholds for disclosure, and the public disclosure process. These guidelines are designed to ensure that all disclosures are submitted and reviewed by ACC on a timely basis and that ACC's public reports reflect the current state of all disclosures. The purpose of these guidelines is to support ACC's mission to improve cardiovascular care and scientific knowledge, and to promote the public trust in the accuracy, objectivity, and impartiality of ACC's continuing education offerings.
commitment depends on member and public confidence in the College's integrity and objectivity. The College recognizes that the activities of College members in their practice, research, and other volunteer and private endeavors could lead to the development of conflicts of interest. Therefore, the College has established a Disclosure Policy and conflict of interest management process as appropriate. All members involved in College governance, including all committees and task forces, programmatic, certified educational, chapter, and other activities must provide complete, timely, accurate, and signed disclosure statements. Compliance with this process is mandatory for participation in College activities.
